

Tax Reassessment Services

According to information obtained by BBB, these companies offer residential reassessment services and are not affiliated with any government agency. The Tax Assessor's office has advised BBBs that consumers who feel their property assessment is too high may challenge the assessment on their own at no charge. To do so, consumers may write a letter to the County Assessor's office containing the following information:

- 1) The parcel number
- 2) Your opinion of why the assessment is too high
- 3) Reasons to support your opinion; for instance, sales or listings of other properties in your areas
- 4) A recent appraisal of the property

For more information, please call your county's Assessor's office.
